Delaware/ Las Vegas, Jul 30 - Aug 3, 2017 – European Garden Living LLC, three decades as one of Europe’s leading manufacturers of highest-quality and detail-oriented wooden garden décor and furniture, is launching its US market entry at Las Vegas Market 2017. U.S. customers can now immerse themselves in tailor-made contemporary European-style gardens that follow state-of-the-art wooden architecture and the latest urban design trends!

Handcrafted and sustainable garden furniture with the highest quality standards and a unique European touch – European Garden Living LLC, top seller in more than 25 European countries with key markets in Germany, France, and the United Kingdom, now introduces its cutting-edge product range in the United States.

Products and vision

European Garden Living LLC sells elegant and bespoke garden décor and outdoor furniture such as flora planters, gazebos, pergolas, fence panels, and more; providing an inspiring and long-lasting garden environment. The collection creates a harmonized European look suitable for any style and size of garden. The wooden architecture is designed with inspiration from the classics, contemporary trends, and urban living in Europe. European Garden Living LLC puts focus on the quality of its products so that customers can transform their gardens into calm and tranquil places. The company’s vision is based around: Comfort, European style, quality, excellence, and the use of the very best sustainably grown timber for their products.

“We strive to push the boundaries of the garden world,” says Rolf Behrsing, President of the European Garden Living LLC. “We have great designs that have proved to sell well all throughout Europe to our sophisticated customers. Our products are sanded so that they are safe with no risk of splinters. They are also more subtly designed than the typical American garden décor. Our attention to detail with small carvings, grooves, and patterns, introduces a very artistic and touch that our customers consistently appreciate.”

The environmental promise

Products from European Garden Living LLC are created using the highest quality European timber from sustainably managed forests. The wood products are FSC certified by the Forest Stewardship Council and treated using solutions which maximize environmental compatibility.

Technology – made in Germany

European Garden Living LLC sources its products from several family-run businesses with more than 150 years of experience with quality and efficiency. The high quality of the wooden garden architecture is ensured by German machines to guarantee excellence and precision during the manufacturing. For example, the fine sawing process is executed by the German assembly line, SAB, functioning to the highest standards.

Advanced pressure treatment

Timber has a number of outstanding characteristics such as thermal insulation, sound insulation, and high strength, with good elasticity and easy workability. European Garden Living LLC has improved the process of extending its products' lifetime by using pressure treatment. During this process wood is placed in a pressure chamber, where organic preservatives are forced into the wood. This treatment helps protect the wood from outdoor elements such as termites, weather hazards, or fungal infestation.
